

Announcements

1. What a great Shavu'ot weekend at the Wigans this past June 10th through June 12th. We thank them for all that they did to make that time a success.
2. Omer counting has ended. We hope you arrived at 50 successfully.
3. We will not be able to have the Mechanicsville library on July 16th. We have moved the date to July 23rd.
4. At both meetings in July, the focus of the New Testament teachings will be Romans 14:1-6, 14. Prepare ahead with your questions and insights.

“Looking at the Scriptures through the Eyes of a First Century Jew”

What Yeshua said about his Purpose

Matthew 5:17 Do not suppose that I have any intention of doing away with the Torah or the Prophets. My purpose is rather to place them on a firmer footing by interpreting them correctly in terms of God's ultimate will as He originally intended for His commandments to be obeyed.

The Law of God, also known as the Torah, emanates from the abiding goodness of God's nature and thus stands forever, God being unchangeable. When we observe the Torah, it is a reflection of His Divine Nature resident within us.

Today's Torah Portion Numbers 13:1 — 15:41

1. Numbers 13:33 Who are the Nephilim and why do you need to know?
2. Numbers 14:18 speaks of visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation. The NIV is very strong stating "...He punishes the children for the sin of the fathers to the third and fourth generation." Explain Yahweh's grace and mercy upon a family using this passage.
3. Numbers 15:15-16 speak to there being one law for the native born and one law for the stranger. In FFOZ's journal, #105, page 28, Toby Janicki, quoting Milgrom (footnote 13), seeks to establish that only those "commandments" specified in like manner apply to all, and not the entire Torah. Explain how he has or has not made his case.

At the last meeting, David make the case that there is no Scripture that speaks directly to "Sunday" as a day that has been added for worship for the believer. Assess his conclusion in light of the passage from Psalms 118:22-26.

Extra Credit Question

Scenario

Let's say that after a study regarding whether it is proper for a woman to teach other women in the assembly, 100% find that this is acceptable.

Let's say that after this study regarding whether it is proper for a woman to teach men in the assembly, 90% find that this is acceptable.

At a given meeting, we close the wall between the two rooms and set up one for a woman to teach and one for a man to teach. Have we met the burden of the study?

Suppose a man who found it acceptable to be taught by a woman decides they would like to hear the particular message being taught by a woman. Have we failed to meet the burden of the study?

אדני Hebrew: Adonai, means lord, master. Sarah called Abraham "lord" in Genesis 18:12

Coming Up

July 2th and 16th

Romans 14 may be one of the hardest passages to explain to Protestant Christians for a couple of reasons. First, verse one appears to say not to discuss differences and second, verse 14 (in many versions, the ISR is an exception) has Paul stating that there is nothing unclean in existence anymore unless one thinks that something is unclean and then, of course, it is unclean again. Once again, the wrong question yields the wrong answer. We will break this down and find out some great stuff!
